GRADUATE PROFILE

Garrett Reese, class of 2019

Garrett's Longwood career entailed not only meaningful experiences as a performer but also his willingness to serve others. He was a Peer Mentor for incoming students, an elected Senator for the Student Government Association, a Big Siblings Mentor, and a volunteer for the MLK Challenge and the Farmville food pantry. "I participated in all of these because I am passionate about making a difference for someone other than myself."

As a Theatre Performance major, Garrett participated in productions every semester and completed classes in Acting, Theatrical Design, Aesthetics, Movement, and Directing. He was also one of the anonymous students—not revealed until graduation—who embodied Elwood, Longwood's mascot, at athletic events and special occasions. "I couldn't have done it without Dr. Ronda Scarrow, Lacy Klinger, and Leslie Cook-Day. They were constantly helping me network and gain more connections to thrive on campus and outside Longwood."

Garrett now serves as chairman of the High School Theatre Festival through the Virginia Theatre Association in Lynchburg.

COMMON MINORS

Most minors require about 18 credits, or 6 classes. Some of these classes will also count for Core Curriculum requirements, making the addition of a minor as simple as enrolling in one class per semester.

Common minors for students of Theatre include:

- Communication Studies
- Creative Writing
- English
- History
- Psychology

GRADUATE PROFILE

Ransford Doherty, class of 1997

A native of Northern Virginia, Ransford has been working in film and television since 1998 when he moved to Los Angeles with $1,500 and a BFA in Theatre Performance. Inspired by the Theatre faculty to pursuing acting full-time, he landed his first professional job in January 2000—an appearance in an AT&T commercial.

Since then, Ransford has starred in recurring roles in two network television shows—as the coroner's investigator Kendall in TNT's Major Crimes and as Detective Tim Bell on ABC's Body of Proof. The former show, which premiered in August 2012, replaced The Closer, in which Doherty played the same role.

Ransford has appeared in several other recurring roles on network television shows including NCIS, Jonas, Las Vegas, and Joan of Arcadia. He also has made numerous appearances on top-rated network shows, among them The Office and Bones, and he has starred in action web series Caribe Road and Safety Geeks: SVI. His film appearances include Hostage, opposite Bruce Willis, and Something Like a Business, alongside Kevin Hart.
